Prince Lubomirski, who was accompanied by the princess, said that he would be succeeded at Washington by Dr. L. Wroblewski, now Polish Minister to London.

Among the stars of the operatic world arriving on the Olympic was Feedor Chaliapine, Russian basso, who is coming here to fill an engagement with the Metropolitan Opera Company. He declared that he is now a free Russian citizen and is permitted by his government to travel without restrictions, and that he is under no obligations to return. He declined to discuss politics, for he declared that, after all, he was a Russian, and it mattered but little to him who was at the head of his government. His art was uppermost in his mind, he added. Mr. Chaliapine left his wife and family in Lendon, where they will remain for the winter.

Doubts Oser Will Marry
Doubt that the marriage of Max Oser, Swiss riding master, and Mathilde McCormiek, Chicago heiress, would ever take place, was expressed by Harry V. Daugherty, private detective of this city, who has been abroad, it was understood, in the interests of Harold McCormiek, who recently married Ganna Walska. Mr. Daugherty said that he attended several recitals given by the diva.
